SWA is delighted that Honeywell selected us to provide them with IT Get Into.... Training course over the summer. Honeywell operates globally in a number of sectors, including aerospace products and services; control technologies for buildings, homes and industry; automotive products; turbochargers; and specialty materials. Its avionics division is celebrating having just won the contract with the MOD to upgrade the Chinook helicopter this week.

"It is a great honour that this well known, global company chose SWA to deliver a Get Into Training course", says Steve Walker (MD SWA).

From a production centre in Leicester, Gent by Honeywell is synonymous with quality and innovation in the fire detection and alarm industry and safeguards the lives of everyone who enters some of the world's most prestigious buildings. The Leicester centre produces high quality fire detection and suppression equipment 'on demand' so the pressure is always on to ensure operations are effective in delivering what is needed when it is required.
