

John Merison Wins Major Contract

John Merison the rapidly growing Coalville building and maintenance company has just secured the prestigious maintenance contract for Orbit Housing Association for another year.

John Merison fought off three national building companies' to win the contract. “Having looked after Orbit for the last 5 years, winning this tender is a fabulous result for everyone involved in the company, it reflects the quality of service and the standard of work we achieve for Orbit” says John Merison Managing Director of John Merison.

SWA is working with the senior management team of John Merison to develop the marketing strategy for the company which includes Ecotherm thermal imaging, identifying energy savings, effectively and cost effectively.

John Merison, which celebrated its 21st birthday last year, prides itself on keeping all its trades in-house “not relying on sub-contractors is one of the major advantages we have in today’s market” says John Merison. The company is also a keen supporter of apprentice schemes, counting 6 apprentices among its current workforce.

The company delivers the “one-stop-building” service to both commercial and private customers, and its distinctive vehicles are seen across the region doing everything from electrical and plumbing work through to general maintenance.
