

Meet the Partner – Robin Clayton

Robin, M Inst LM, AIIRSM, ARSPH, NAEMT, is SWA's highly experienced and qualified environmental and Health & Safety professional and joins us from Office Depot. He delivers high quality consultancy and training to a varied client base of businesses and not for profit organisations throughout the UK.

Robin has great experience in health and safety, working in a variety of businesses. Starting at Longlands Safety, he went on to work with KRM Training and Development where Robin worked with car companies such as Ford and Volvo teaching them Health and Safety Law, before joining Office Depot as Regional Health and Safety Manager, where for the past four and half years, he was responsible for ensuring safe working environments for the staff and the public.

"It's a real pleasure to join SWA, a company that is growing and developing so quickly. Steve and the whole SWA team are so positive and energetic in their approach and attitude and it is really exciting for me to join them. I am looking forward to getting out and meeting as many customers as I can, understanding their needs and providing them with the guidance and tools so they can provide a safe and pleasant working environment for their staff and customers, knowing they are following best practice."

Robin Clayton - SWA

Qualifications in Health and safety are vitally important. They not only ensure highest standards of skills and knowledge in the field, but also ensure continued expertise in this rapidly changing business area.

Robin's qualifications include:

- M Inst LM: Member of the institute of Leadership and Management
- AIIRSM: Associate of the International Institute of Risk and Safety Management
- ARSPH: Associate of Royal Society for Public Health
- NAEMT: National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians
- 14 Years in the field: Priceless!

With over 14 years experience, Robin has the ability to enable management to understand the importance of a safe and environmentally friendly working culture. He also has the ability to make Health and Safety at work interesting and understandable.

"Robin's experience and passion in health and safety is second to none, from the minute you meet him through to the advice and follow-up documentation he provides; that enthusiasm is infectious and we feel it will make a huge impact on the value we can provide to our existing and new customers" says Steve Walker (MD SWA)

From understanding the needs of a business or organisation and designing the most appropriate programme to meet those needs is where Robin provides real value to all, whether that is in advice, documentation and procedures or training sessions in health and safety.
